

Table of Contents

Acknowledgments	xxi
Introduction	1
i. Legal writing and other writing	1
ii. Types of legal analysis	1
ii.i Identifying the governing law	1
ii.ii Explaining what the governing law means	3
ii.iii Applying the governing law to a set of facts	4
iii. The legal memorandum	6
iii.i Characteristics	6
iii.ii Components	6
iii.iii Basic rule of organization	7
iv. Consistent approach to writing legal memoranda	7
v. How to use this book	7
vi. A note about nomenclature	8
1. How to Write the Heading to a Memorandum	9
1.1. Purpose	9
1.2. Format	9
1.3. Names	10
1.4. Date	10
1.5. Subject line	11
2. How to Write the Question Presented	13
2.1. Purpose	13
2.2. When to draft it	13
2.3. Format	13
2.3.1. The single-sentence Question Presented	14
2.3.2. The multiple-sentence Question Presented	15
2.4. The form of question	15
2.4.1. Yes-or-no question	15
2.4.2. Governing law	16
2.4.3. Conclusory question	17
2.4.4. Client's perspective	17
2.5. The key facts	19
2.5.1. Legal relevance	19
2.5.2. Generic or specific references	20

2.5.2.1. Reader's familiarity	20
2.5.2.2. Actors' relationship	21
2.5.2.3. Research focus	21
3. How to Write the Brief Answer	23
3.1. Purpose	23
3.2. When to draft it	23
3.3. Format	23
3.3.1. Length	23
3.3.2. Multiple issues	24
3.4. The form of answer	24
3.4.1. Yes-or-no answer	24
3.4.2. Substantive answer	24
3.4.3. Answer to question not suitable to yes-or-no formulation	25
3.4.4. Degree of certainty	26
3.5. The applicable rule	26
3.6. The supporting reasons	27
3.6.1. The parts of the rule	27
3.6.2. The corresponding key facts	28
3.6.3. Generic or specific references	28
3.7. Legal citations	29
4. How to Write the Statement of Facts	31
4.1. Purpose	31
4.2. When to draft it	31
4.2.1. Preliminary draft	31
4.2.2. Interim revision	31
4.2.3. Final review	32
4.3. Format	32
4.3.1. Chronology	32
4.3.2. Length	32
4.3.3. Sections	32
4.4. Statement of context	32
4.5. Facts to include	33
4.5.1. Material facts	33
4.5.2. Names	34
4.5.3. Dates	35
4.5.4. Quotations and citations	35
4.5.5. Missing facts	35
4.6. Presentation of the facts	36
5. How to Organize the Discussion	39

5.1. Purpose	39
5.2. Format	39
5.3. Large-scale organization	39
5.3.1. Research focus	39
5.3.2. Rule structures	40
5.3.2.1. Levels of analysis	40
5.3.2.2. Number of parts at each level	40
5.3.2.3. Relationship among the parts	41
5.3.2.4. Generic references	41
5.3.2.5. Specific references	41
5.3.3. Sequence of analysis	43
5.3.4. Sections and subsections	43
5.3.4.1. Separate analyses	43
5.3.4.2. Combined analyses	43
5.3.5. Headings	45
5.3.5.1. Content	45
5.3.5.2. Numbering and alignment	45
5.3.5.3. Fonts and spacing	46
5.3.6. Outline	46
5.4. Small-scale organization	47
5.4.1. Conclusion	47
5.4.2. Rule Statement	47
5.4.3. Rule Explanation	47
5.4.4. Rule Application	47
5.4.5. Restated Conclusion	47
5.5. Intentional repetition	48
6. How to Write the Overview to the Discussion	49
6.1. Purpose	49
6.2. Format	49
6.3. The overall conclusion	49
6.4. The applicable law	50
6.4.1. Descending levels of authority	50
6.4.2. Descending levels of analysis within rule	51
6.4.3. Information about operation of rule	51
6.4.4. Historical or other background information	51
6.4.5. Legal citations and leading decisions	51
6.4.6. Unpublished decisions	52
6.4.7. Quotations and visual aids	52
6.4.7.1. Enacted law	52
6.4.7.2. Judicial rule	53
6.4.7.3. Lists	53
6.4.8. Limiting the scope of the memorandum	55

6.5. The supporting reasons	55
6.5.1. Transitional sentence	55
6.5.2. Reasons at the different levels of the rule	56
6.5.3. Sequence for presenting the reasons	56
6.5.4. Legal citations	56
6.6. Optional repeated conclusion	57
6.7. Overviews in individual Discussion sections	58
6.7.1. Divided sections	59
6.7.2. Undivided sections	60
6.8. Templates	62
Template 6A: Overview to Discussion	62
Template 6B: Overview to Individual Section	63
7. How to Write the Conclusion and Rule Statement for an Individual Section or Subsection	65
7.1. Purpose	65
7.2. Format	65
7.2.1. Separate paragraphs	65
7.2.2. Combined paragraph	66
7.3. The Conclusion	68
7.3.1. Substantive focus	68
7.3.2. Length	69
7.4. The Rule Statement	70
7.4.1. Context within rule structure	71
7.4.2. Quotations	72
7.4.3. Legal citations	74
7.5. Templates	76
Template 7A: Conclusion and Rule Statement in Separate Paragraphs	76
Template 7B: Conclusion and Rule Statement in Combined Paragraph	77
8. How to Write the Rule Explanation for an Individual Section or Subsection	79
8.1. Purpose	79
8.2. Format	79
8.2.1. Deductive presentation	79
8.2.2. Paragraphs	80
8.2.3. Length	80
8.3. Main points about the case law	83
8.3.1. Categories of main points	83
8.3.2. Stating the main point	85
8.3.2.1. Relation to the rule	85

8.3.2.2. Key judicial terms	85
8.3.2.3. Judicial findings and conclusions	86
8.3.2.4. Positive points	87
8.3.2.5. Specific points	88
8.3.2.6. Accurate points	88
8.3.2.7. Single insight	88
8.3.3. Covering multiple main points	91
8.3.4. Legal citations	91
8.4. Cases that illustrate the main points	92
8.4.1. Supporting cases	93
8.4.2. Similar and dissimilar cases	94
8.4.3. Number of cases	95
8.4.4. Level and date of authority	95
8.5. Descriptions of individual cases	95
8.5.1. Length	95
8.5.2. Factual context	96
8.5.3. Language	96
8.5.4. Multiple-sentence descriptions	96
8.5.4.1. Relevant holding or finding	96
8.5.4.2. Key material facts	97
8.5.4.3. Important judicial reasoning	97
8.5.5. Single-sentence descriptions	101
8.5.6. Explanatory parentheticals	102
8.5.7. Multiple case descriptions	105
8.5.7.1. Consistency	105
8.5.7.2. Sequence	106
8.5.8. Subject focus in case descriptions	106
8.6. Quotations	109
8.7. Templates	111
Template 8A: Organization of Single Section (Through Rule Explanation)	111
Template 8B: Multiple-Sentence Case Description	113
9. How to Write the Rule Application and Restated Conclusion for an Individual Section or Subsection	115
9.1. Purpose	115
9.2. Format	115
9.2.1. Paragraphs	115
9.2.2. Sequence	116
9.2.3. Length	116
9.3. The conclusion	119
9.3.1. Relation to the main point	119
9.3.2. Substance	119
9.3.3. Degree of certainty	120

9.3.4. Supporting reason or detail	120
9.3.5. Consistency	120
9.4. Factual analysis	122
9.4.1. Consistency	124
9.4.2. Citations	124
9.5. Case comparisons	124
9.5.1. Length	124
9.5.2. Specificity	124
9.5.3. Language	125
9.5.4. Accuracy	125
9.5.5. Explanatory parentheticals	127
9.5.6. Subject focus in case comparisons	129
9.6. Consistency with the Rule Explanation	132
9.6.1. Main point	132
9.6.2. Material facts	133
9.6.3. Key analytical terms and concepts	133
9.7. Consistency with other conclusions	133
9.8. Counterarguments	133
9.8.1. Indirect rebuttal	134
9.8.2. Direct rebuttal	134
9.8.3. Placement within paragraph	135
9.8.4. Substantive analysis	135
9.9. Additional information	136
9.10. Restated Conclusion	137
9.11. Template	139
Template 9: Organization of Single Section (Through Rule Application)	139
9.12. Exhibit	141
Exhibit 9: Subject Focus and Other Unifying Techniques in Rule Explanation and Rule Application Paragraphs	141
10. How to Write the Final Conclusion	147
10.1. Purpose	147
10.2. When to use it	147
10.3. Format	147
10.4. Content	147
11. How to Organize and Write an Informal or E-mail Memorandum	151
11.1. Purpose	151
11.2. Format	151
11.2.1. Degree of formality	151
11.2.2. Delivery	152
11.2.3. Length	152

11.2.4. Informal memorandum	153
11.2.5. E-mail memorandum	153
11.2.6. Degree of repetition	153
11.3. Heading	154
11.4. Introduction	154
11.5. Summary	156
11.6. Discussion	157
11.6.1. Overview	157
11.6.2. Large-scale organization	159
11.6.2.1. Rule structure	159
11.6.2.2. Thematic structure	160
11.6.2.3. Procedural structure	161
11.6.2.4. Other sequential structures	161
11.6.3. Small-scale organization	163
11.6.3.1. Legal analysis	163
11.6.3.2. Non-legal analysis	164
11.6.4. Final Conclusion	165
11.7. Sections, headings, lists	166
11.8. Paragraphs, writing, citations	167
11.9. Special issues for e-mail memoranda	167
11.9.1. Letter format	167
11.9.2. Recipients	168
11.9.3. Visual appearance	169
12. How to Format a Memorandum	171
12.1. Purpose	171
12.2. Page Size and Margins	171
12.3. Fonts	171
12.3.1. Font style	172
12.3.2. Font size	172
12.3.3. Footnotes and endnotes	172
12.3.4. Headings	172
12.3.5. Superscripts	173
12.4. Justification	173
12.5. Spacing	173
12.5.1. Lines	173
12.5.2. Paragraphs	173
12.5.3. Headings	173
12.5.4. Lists	173
12.5.5. Sentences	174
12.5.6. Ellipsis	174
12.6. Headings	174
12.6.1. Titles	174
12.6.2. Outline format	174

12.6.3. Location on the page	175
12.6.4. Punctuation	175
12.6.5. Capitalization	175
12.7. Page numbering	175
12.8. Page limits	176
12.9. Indentation for paragraphs, lists, and block quotations	176
12.10. Emphasis	176
12.11. Citations	176
12.12. Quality control	176
12.12.1. Spelling and grammar	177
12.12.2. Names, titles, and key language	177
12.12.3. Format	177
13. How to Write Clearly	179
13.1. Purpose	179
13.2. The English language	179
13.2.1. Independent and dependent clauses	179
13.2.2. Compound and complex sentences	180
13.2.3. Phrases	180
13.2.4. Nouns, verbs, and pronouns	180
13.2.5. Active and passive voice	181
13.2.6. Adjectives, adverbs, and modifiers	181
13.2.7. Natural emphasis	181
13.3. Five essential strategies for writing clear sentences and paragraphs	182
13.3.1. Sentence load	182
13.3.2. Order of ideas	182
13.3.3. Verbs	182
13.3.4. Paragraph unity	182
13.3.5. Subject focus	183
13.4. Three essential strategies for presenting related information clearly	183
13.4.1. Parallel structure	183
13.4.2. Items in a list	185
13.4.3. Transitions	186
13.5. Thirty guidelines for correct grammar, precise word choice, and clear style	189
13.5.1. Adjectivization	189
13.5.2. Agreement: subject-pronoun	189
13.5.3. Agreement: subject-verb	189
13.5.4. As	190
13.5.5. As such	190
13.5.6. Clients and other parties	191
13.5.7. Comma in a series	191

13.5.8. Comparisons with like or as	191
13.5.9. Contractions	192
13.5.10. Court and courts	192
13.5.11. Dates	192
13.5.12. First- and second-person	192
13.5.13. Impact	192
13.5.14. In fact; indeed	193
13.5.15. Inexact equation	193
13.5.16. Inter alia	193
13.5.17. Jargon	193
13.5.18. Misplaced modifiers	193
13.5.19. Nominalization	194
13.5.20. Numbers	194
13.5.21. Parenthetical insertions	194
13.5.22. Past and present tense	195
13.5.23. Per	195
13.5.24. Quoting ordinary phrases	195
13.5.25. Since	195
13.5.26. Slash constructions	196
13.5.27. This and that	196
13.5.28. Verbalization	196
13.5.29. Via	196
13.5.30. While	196
Sample Memoranda	199
Sample Legal Memorandum	201
Sample Informal Memorandum	225
Sample E-mail Memorandum	231
Index	235