

CONTENTS

Acknowledgments	xi
------------------------------	-----------

Chapter One: Preliminary Perspectives

Chapter Two: Client Interviewing

2.1	Goals of the Initial Client Interview	14
2.1.1	The Respective Goals of Clients and Lawyers.....	14
2.1.2	Goals of the Client versus the Goals of the Lawyer.....	15
2.2	Competing Motivations.....	16
2.2.1	Client Inhibitors	16
2.2.2	Lawyer Facilitators	19
2.3	An Overall Client Interview Strategy	21
2.3.1	Pre-interview Planning.....	21
2.3.2	Rapport/Icebreaking	22
2.3.3	Basic Questioning Technique.....	24
2.4	The Three-Stage Interview.....	26
2.4.1	The Gush	26
2.4.2	Problem Overview	28
2.4.3	Theory Verification	30
2.4.4	Recollection and Reconstruction.....	31
2.5	Professional Responsibility Issues and the Initial Interview	32
2.5.1	The Onset of the Attorney-Client Relationship	32
2.5.2	Confidentiality of Communications and Other Information	33
2.5.3	Conflicts of Interest	35
2.5.4	Conflicts with Other Clients and Former Clients.....	36
2.5.5	The Scope of Representation	36
2.5.6	Fee Agreements.....	37
2.5.7	Diligence and Communication	38
2.5.8	Professionalism Concerns: What if the Client Lies?.....	39

Chapter Three: Developing Case Theory for Fact Investigation

3.1 Introduction 43

3.2 Definitions 44

 3.2.1 Legal Theory..... 44

 3.2.2 Factual Theory..... 44

 3.2.3 Persuasive Theory 46

3.3 Theory Identification Process..... 47

 3.3.1 Legal Theory..... 47

 3.3.2 Factual Theory..... 49

 3.3.2.1 Timelines..... 50

 3.3.2.2 Relationship Charts..... 54

 3.3.2.3 Brainstorming..... 57

 3.3.2.4 Focus Groups 61

 3.3.2.5 Storylines..... 64

Chapter Four: Fact Investigation Plan

4.1 Introduction 69

4.2 Fact Investigation Devices..... 70

 4.2.1 Devices Available in Both Civil and Criminal Litigation 70

 4.2.2 Devices Available in Civil Litigation 71

 4.2.3 Devices Available in Criminal Litigation 71

4.3 Plan Structure and Fact Investigation Chart..... 72

4.4 Executing the Plan..... 77

4.5 Special Strategy Options for Prosecutors in Criminal Prosecutions and Whistleblower Cases..... 81

Chapter Five: Witness Interviewing

5.1 Introduction 87

5.2 Lawyer Roles 88

5.3 Interviewing the Friendly Witness 90

 5.3.1 Timing..... 90

 5.3.2 Preparation 90

 5.3.3 Conducting the Interview 91

5.4 Interviewing the Neutral Witness 92

 5.4.1 Timing..... 92

 5.4.2 Preparation 93

 5.4.3 Conducting the Interview 93

5.5	Interviewing the Hostile Witness.....	94
5.5.1	Timing.....	94
5.5.2	Preparation	95
5.5.3	Conducting the Interview	96
5.6	Inhibitors to Witness Testimony	98
5.6.1	Ego Threat.....	98
5.6.2	Job Threat.....	100
5.6.3	Role Expectations	100
5.6.4	Etiquette Barrier	101
5.6.5	Trauma	102
5.6.6	Perceived Irrelevancy.....	102
5.6.7	Greater Need	103
5.6.8	Time and Money	103
5.6.9	Forgetting.....	105
5.7	The Psychology of Memory.....	106
5.8	Professional Responsibility Issues in Witness Interviewing.....	109

Chapter Six: Negotiating e-Discovery

6.1	Preliminary Perspectives.....	113
6.2	Federal Rules on e-Discovery	117
6.2.1	The Proposed Amendment	118
6.3	Plaintiff’s Strategies.....	118
6.4	Defense Perspectives	120
6.5	Negotiating e-Discovery Protective Orders	124
6.6	Conclusion	125

Chapter Seven: Counseling

7.1	Introduction.....	127
7.2	Three Competing and Interlocking Models.....	127
7.2.1	The Client-Centered Approach.....	128
7.2.1.1	Stages of the Client-Centered Approach	134
7.2.1.2	Problems Using the Client-Centered Approach	140
7.2.2	Surrogate or Delegation Model.....	145
7.2.2.1	Risks in Using the Surrogate Model.....	146
7.2.3	Friendship Model.....	147
7.2.3.1	Some Underlying Assumptions.....	147
7.2.3.2	Four Steps to Friendly Counseling.....	148

Contents

7.3	Choosing the Right Model for the Client and the Situation.....	155
7.4	Counseling the Client to Obtain Settlement Authority.....	157
7.5	Counseling the Client to Explore a Mediated Solution	162
	Appendix: Selected Model Rules of Professional Conduct.....	163
	Index.....	207